Ike And Faubus Unyielding Teamsters Repudiate Charges

Eisenhower's
Top Aide Sees
Spot Of Hope

Adams Believes
Basis For Accord
Can Be Reached

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Neither Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas nor President Eisenhower budged an inch today in their troops-in-Arkansas deadlock, but a presidential aide held out a measure of hope for agreement.

Sherman Adams, the President's top assistant and one of his closest advisers, said in a Chattanooga news conference:

"In our opinion a basis will be found for the early withdrawal of federal forces from Little Rock. 'I personally believe and certainly hope this will not occur again.'

Adams' words offered the only glimmer of hope for any early settlement of one of the grimmest federal-state conflicts in the nation's history.

Faubus said at Little Rock he was standing pat on his statement of last night. This was the one rejected by Eisenhower as inadequate. He wants stronger assurances that the governor will prevent obstruction of federal court orders for the integration of Central High School at Little Rock.

Federal troops and National Guardsmen under federal control are in Little Rock now to enforce the court orders.

Ike Refuses To Budge

The White House was an unyielding as Faubus, and press secretary James C. Hagerty said:

"There will be no comment on Gov. Faubus' statement today other than to say that I think the President's statement of last night is more apt than ever."

How is it more apt? Hagerty was asked.

Hagerty replied there were several things, notably that the governor had been quoted as saying it was evident that disorders would follow withdrawal of federal troops.

Eisenhower, after reading press reports from Little Rock, went out for a round of golf with Vice President Nixon.

Hagerty said the President will have a news conference tomorrow, his first since the integration crisis started building up at Little Rock a month ago.

Adams GOP Leaders Meet

Adams was in Chattanooga for a luncheon with Republican leaders on party finance matters in the Southeast. Adams declined to discuss how Eisenhower's handling of the Little Rock situation would affect the Republican party in the South.

But of Eisenhower's calling out the troops, Adams said:

"No American could have done so with more reluctance."

These things should be considered:

"First, the executive department did not originate the (integration) plan. Secondly, the administration is not responsible for the decision of the Supreme Court in this matter."

"But whether we like it or not, it is the law of the land. The President agreed when he took his oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States as indeed did every governor."

MISSILE TEST CENTER, CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Oct. 2 (AP)—A missile thought to be the Army's Redstone was fired from here today.

The Redstone, which has been fired many times, has a range of 200 miles. Watchers said the projectile vanished in a cloud bank seconds after it was launched but the roar of its engine could be heard for over a minute.

Saudi Arabia
Blames West
For Tensions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Saudi Arabia today blamed

Western nations for Middle East tension and called for a U.N. "hands off" policy toward Syria.

Ahmad Shukairy, minister of state for Saudi Arabia, told the 82-nation General Assembly "It is the policy of the West that is destroying ties with the Arabs."

He proclaimed Saudi Arabia's full solidarity with Syria and asserted shipments of Communist ar-ists to that country is no business of the United Nations.

He called for the United Nations to establish an agency to "facilite the repatriation of Israelis to their former homes." He said "We do not intend to throw the Jews to the sea," but wish them "a better and happier life in their homelands, where they can settle under U.N. auspices."

Shukairy is a Palestinian Arab who represented Syria at past U.N. sessions. He is head of the U.N. delegation for Saudi Arabia, whose King Saud is regarded by the United States as a friend in the Middle East.

A British spokesman said the speech "can hardly be regarded as a helpful contribution to the affairs of the United Nations, with particular reference to the Middle East." A U.S. spokesman said the speech will be given careful study.

Shukairy denounced as "sheer fallacy" a suggestion by British

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd

that the Soviets may be establishing a forward base in the Middle East by an arms buildup in Syria.

Shukairy said such statements are "nothing but an insult to our national honor, which we must reject outright without hesitation."

today.

The infant Philippe died shortly before midnight. An hour and a

Doctors said the outlook was dim for the other babies, Roland,

Philippe, Genevieve, and Michele, were all delivered within one hour.

The two boys and three girls range in weight from 2 pounds to 2.3 pounds each at birth.

Two other sets of quintuplets are known to have survived the first days of birth—the Dionnes of Canada born in 1934, and the Diligentis of Argentina born in 1943. The Dionnes were all girls.

Emilie Dionne died at age 20 three years ago. The Diligentis are two girls.

"Then she moved again and appeared to have regained life," a doctor said.

The mother, Mrs. Camille Christofle 29, was reported doing well.

Her husband, 33, is a social secuquintuplets were their first children.

Maryland Governor Denounces Faubus As Doublecrosser

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 2 (P)—while the spreading of the Faubus Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of demagoguery threatens the peace, Maryland today accused Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas of "doublecrossing" the four Southern governors who met yesterday with President Eisenhower to discuss the withdrawal of federal troops from Little Rock.

McKeldin, one of the four who met with Eisenhower, said Faubus "has elected to pile infamy on the heap of disgrace which he has inflicted on the great State of Arkansas." McKeldin was the only Republican on the governors' committee.

The committee had apparently reached an agreement with the President regarding the withdrawal of federal troops from integration-torn Little Rock. But after a Faubus statement last night, Eisenhower declared the federal troops would remain.

McKeldin said "responsible executives cannot remain silent."

Changes Made In Baltimore's Rackets Squad

BALTIMORE, Oct. 2 (P)—The Baltimore Police Department announced changes today in its rackets division.

A State Police investigation continued into immorality accusations against two high-ranking city police officers. The two have not been identified, but authorities said formal charges would be filed next Friday.

The changes in the high command of the rackets division were announced by Police Commissioner James M. Hebron, who said the two officers normally in charge of the division are on leave.

Hebron said Acting Chief Inspector Oscar Lusby has been put in command of the division during the absence of Inspector Clarence O. Forrester. Hebron said Forrester is on sick leave.

Capt. Joseph Carroll, head of the narcotics squad, is filling in for Capt. Hyman Goldstein who, Hebron said, is on leave of absence.

Asked if the rackets division is still functioning, Hebron said "on routine matters."

The State Police probe got underway after two high-ranking police officials and a civilian were accused by the Criminal Justice Commission of maintaining an apartment for a convicted prostitute.

Last Friday night a rackets division sergeant, Charles E. Gross, shot himself to death at his home. Hebron said evidence in the Gross case was turned over to State Police "for study for possible pertinency" to their investigation.

Relatives of Gross, including his widow, met with State Police yesterday. They expressed fear for their own safety.

They said that at the meeting of more than an hour with special State Police探官 they told all they knew about Gross' mysterious suicide.

Strike Is Marked By Paint Throwing

BALTIMORE, Oct. 2 (P)—A jar of yellow paint was thrown last night into the home of an official of the strikebound Procter Electric Co.

Employees of the firm at plants in suburban Arbutus and at Philadelphia, have been on strike since Sept. 1, when negotiations on a new contract broke down.

Procter manufactures electrical fixtures. About 300 workers at the Arbutus plant are on strike and 450 in Philadelphia have left their jobs. The local workers are members of Local 166, International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America.

Charles R. Hetzel, traffic manager of the firm, said he found his front window smashed and his living room splattered with yellow paint when he got up this morning at 6 a.m.

Confidential Juror Bribe Rumor Probed

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2 (P)—The district attorney's office today investigated the rumored bribing of a juror in the Confidential magazine criminal libel trial.

The trial, which cost an estimated one million dollars, ended last night in a jury deadlock.

Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Rizzi, who prosecuted the two-month-long case, said a "preliminary inquiry" is being made into the bribery report.

The hint of bribery was revealed after the jury was dismissed.

Juror LaGuerre Drouet and Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker said a member of the jury had overheard a remark to the effect that a juror had been bribed to hold out against a verdict.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (P)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference at 10:30 a.m. EDT tomorrow. It will be his first since the Little Rock integration crisis developed and the first since he left on a New England vacation a month ago.

Poles, Czechs Offer To Bar Atom Weapons

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 2 (P)—Poland and Czechoslovakia said today they would bar nuclear weapons from their territories if East and West Germany would do the same.

Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki first made the offer in a policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly. Czechoslovak Foreign Minister Vaclav David joined in.

Rapacki declared Poland was making its declaration after consulting others in the Communist eight-nation Warsaw Pact. This presumably included the Soviet Union. Of the Warsaw Pact countries, only Czechoslovakia and Poland border Germany.

Rapacki said plans "being made to equip the West German army with nuclear weapons" might compel "threatened nations" to decide for strengthening their security. He added Poland wanted to prevent such a development.

David said Czechoslovakia was prepared to associate itself with the Polish move and to "renounce the production and stationing" of atomic weapons on its territory if both Germans would do that also. Czechoslovakia is a producer of uranium.

U.S. troops in West Germany have atomic cannon. But it is not clear whether they have live atomic ammunition too. Polish Delegate Jerzy Michalowski told U.N. reporters "We know" they have. Rapacki said his offer would for all nuclear weapons—national or foreign—on German soil. He declined to say if Soviet troops in Poland had such weapons.

Negroes Return To Matoaka Hi

MATOAKA, W. Va., Oct. 2 (P)—Four of Matoaka High School's 10 Negro students returned to classes without incident today. The anti-integration outbursts of the two previous days appeared to be all but over.

The four arrived in a special school bus and were escorted to the door by state troopers. There were no loitering white students to cause a commotion on the street, for police herded students into the building as soon as they arrived in the area.

Many of the white students were escorted to school by their parents. Principal Ralph Bird said he was not readmitting those who took part in the demonstrations yesterday and Monday until he had conferred with them and their parents.

Yesterday two Negro youths were grabbed by white students as they got off a bus and roughed up. State police quickly broke it up and took the Negroes into the school. About 45 minutes later, all six Negroes attending were sent home in a taxi.

Their home is in Alameda, Calif.

First Step Toward Complete Control Of All U.S. Air Space Taken By CAB

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (P)—The airways corridor that criss cross these corridors at his own discretion government today took a first step toward complete control of all the air space over the United States in which the airplanes of tomorrow will fly.

The Civil Aeronautics Board, in an unprecedented action, provided for the establishment of a new "continental control area" above 24,000 feet, effective Nov. 1.

CAB plans to lower this ceiling gradually until all the air space is controlled. It admitted, however, that this can come only when experience and necessary facilities permit. The ceiling probably will be lowered to 15,000 in two or three years.

Air space now set aside for air traffic control in the United States consists only of the 10-mile civil

Inquiry Into Clergymen's Economic Plight Voted

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (P)—A full-fledged, national inquiry to "find out the facts" about the oft-reputed economic plight of clergymen was authorized today by the National Council of Churches.

The project, to be financed by a $33,500 grant from the Rockefeller Brothers' Fund, was approved at a meeting of the Council's 250-member general board, its interim governing body.

The board, representing 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations in this country with about 35-million-members, also:

1. Hailed President Eisenhower's handling of the integration crisis in Little Rock, Ark., but in the Middle East, and calling for sidetracked a proposed commendation of the integration stands of Arab "some Southern governors" outside Arkansas.

The resolution also praised when glass drinking vessels Christian leaders in Little Rock were introduced, the novelty of and in other integration-troubled areas for their efforts in behalf of the bottoms is said to have re- of justice, reconciliation, law and order in the toast. Many Of Nation's Great Buried In Baltimore Green Mount Cemetery

By CHARLES L. STAFFORD

BALTIMORE, Oct. 2 (AP)—There is a feeling, they say, among old Baltimore families that the true path to heaven lies through the fortress-like gatehouse of historic Green Mount Cemetery.

And if this be true, then one of the nation's prize villains is with God. For here in an unmarked grave lies the remains of Abraham Lincoln's assassin, John Wilkes Booth.

Here also in what Victorian Baltimore called "the City of the Dead" are buried an impressive cross-section of Maryland and the nation's great and near-great.

The roll of 60,000 includes poet Sidney Lanier, sea captain Joshua Barney, philanthropists Johns Hopkins and Enoch Pratt, Confederate generals Joseph E. Johnston and William H. Winder, industrial giant Robert Garrett, sculptor William Henry Rinehart.

In this company, the Duke of Windsor — former King Edward VIII of England—and his Batimore-born wife plan to be buried, the Baltimore Evening Sun reported today. The duchess, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson, was reared in Baltimore society.

Green Mount, a 68½-acre corner of solitude on the northeast fringe of downtown Baltimore, was created in 1838. Its green, rolling hillocks were taken from the country estate of one of the nation's richest men of that era, shipping-magnate Robert Oliver.

Thousands attended the dedication July 13, 1839, and the first funeral—that of two-year-old Olivia Cushing Whitridge—was held the following December.

An 1839 prospectus, issued by the non-profit organization which founded Green Mount, read:

"Is there one who does not of the narrow gatehouse, they think that the quiet of the grave proprietors (members of the board) meet once monthly. Members of his kindred ought not to be disturbed by the roll and hum of the busy crowd, the bustle and turmoil of business around it?"

Today, the great stone wall which encompasses the thousands of grave markers of every description closes out the roll and hum of two of Baltimore's busiest thoroughfares—North and Greenmount avenues. The once-rural landscape is a frowzy business section whose future is behind it.

Inside the wall is unexpected serenity. In the midst of the closely-packed stones is a Gothic chapel and a vast mausoleum of classic architecture.

In a tin-ceilinged upstairs room

Green Mount, with its famous and infamous, also has its ludicrous.

A huge marble bathtub is inverted over one grave with 17 names carved on it. "I think it was an old plumbing family," a caretaker said.

And here are the graves of Lorenz Jacobs and his wives Ursula and Elisabeth. On Jacobs' marker two hands point to the wives' graves on either side. Each of the wives' markers has a hand pointing to the middle.

"Hier ruht meinmann," (here is my man) reads Ursula's stone. "Mein ist er auch," (he is mine also) says Elisabeth's. And Lorenz's proudly explains: "These both are mine."

County Coal Mining Nears All-Time Low

In the past 107 years of coal mining in Allegany County, only two other years had lower production than 1956.

One was in 1954, and the other in 1881, the first year of the Civil War when rail communications east of here were disrupted by the unsettled conditions.

Statistics produced by Maryland Bureau of Mines and files kept by the Cumberland and Pennsylvania Railroad, and its purchaser, the Western Maryland Railway, date back to 1842 when the first commercial mine in Allegany County was opened.

In 1956 production totaled 175,564 tons as compared to 174,185 tons in 1954.

The lowest, outside of these two years, was 147,460 tons in 1861.

The first year any coal was recorded as being hauled on the C&P and a railroad it later purchased, the Cumberland Coal and Iron Company's Railroad, was in 1842.

In this year a total of 1,708 tons was brought to Cumberland and then shipped east on the B&O Railroad.

It was in this year that the B&O Railroad reached Cumberland. Prior to that time, and until 1850 when the C&P Canal was opened, some coal was floated down the river to Georgetown in flat boats.

By 1850, the Georges Creek and Mt. Savage was shipping 296,848 tons a year. This, with the exception of the war years, gradually increased.

In 1851 the production fell back to 257,679 tons, but in 1852 it was 460,254 tons.

Until the time of the motor truck era, all of the coal mined in Georges Creek and Mt. Savage was hauled to the markets over the C&P Railroad, and its predecessors, the Georges Creek and Cumberland Railroad, and the Cumberland Coal and Iron Company Railroad, and later, the Western Maryland Railway.

From that, it can be stated that the Cumberland Coal Trade statistics are reasonably accurate on the production of bituminous coal in this county.

The first time the tonnage hit over 1,000,000 tons was in 1867 when the total production hit 1,121,290.

In just four years, the tonnage exceeded the 2,000,000-mark when in 1871 it rose to 2,167,500.

Then the 3,000,000-ton total was topped in 1888 when 3,106,670 was shipped over the rails.

It took only ten years for the tonnage to get over four million. That was in 1899 when the total was 4,220,997.

The top year as far as coal traffic was concerned for the C&P RR was in 1907 when 3,818,081 tons were hauled over its Cumberland-Mt. Savage-Frostburg-Westernport line.

The Georges Creek and Cumberland RR purchased in 1906 by the Western Maryland Railway had its top years in 1905 when 1,125,602 tons were hauled; in 1896—1,070,843 tons; 1897—1,029,847 tons; 1898—1,014,847 tons; 1899—1,161,668 tons and again in 1901—1,072,904 tons.

Between 1890 and 1902 most of the tonnage was above 900,000 on the Georges Creek.

Traffic Club To Hold Cumberland Night

Cumberland Night will be observed at the October meeting of the Tri-State Traffic Club next Wednesday at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

S. A. Wenner, president, said a social hour will start at 6 p.m. followed by the dinner at 7 p.m.

The speaker will be Harry L. Stegmaier, Cumberland attorney. Arrangements for the meeting have been made by a committee headed by Mortimer C. Schaidt.

Holding Revival

A series of evangelistic services has begun at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church, with the services being held daily at 7:30 p.m. The pastor, Rev. Raymond Campbell, is the evangelist, and he and Mrs. Campbell are presenting the music for the revival.

What About The New Cold Shot?

Announcement by a Johns Hopkins physician that he has created a vaccine which appears to provide at least limited immunization to the common cold has been greeted with exuberance by millions who annually or more often suffer the discomfort and lost time caused by this most common of all maladies.

It was also received with some doubts and caution by the medical fraternity. These doubts do not concern the vaccine itself, which admittedly has only a limited degree of effectiveness, but instead are directed at man's ignorance of the disease.

There are so many conflicting schools of thought on the subject of the causes of the common cold that many doctors feel a one-virus combatant, such as this vaccine, is at best only part of the answer.

Dr. Winston H. Price, the inventor of the cold vaccine, is convinced the virus against which he says his vaccine is 80 per cent effective is responsible for 30 per cent of common colds. If so, approximately one of every four cold sufferers could be immunized for eight-month periods—eight months being the length of immunization claimed by Dr. Price.

But many medical researchers fear that because the natural immunity produced by a cold attack wears off in a short period, it is virtually impossible for a man-made vaccine to have lasting effect. There are others, including Dr. Robert J. Huebner of the National Institutes of Allergy and Infection—a prominent vaccine researcher—who contend the common cold is caused by a combination of virus and certain psychological factors.

Regardless of the relative merits of the Price vaccine, it is at least one of the steps forward in man's eternal battle against his most common physical ailment. The fact that it is not the complete answer is not surprising, considering the tremendous amounts of time and money already spent fruitlessly on the problem.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Source Of Real Power

Senator Frank J. Lausche, speaking on the television program, "Meet the Press," some time ago, made a point which goes to the very heart of the labor unions as managed by the big moguls such as Dave Beck or Walter Reuther who mobilize power, economic and political power.

Senator Lausche said:

"... We must get to the source of what gives these labor leaders the great power. The President of the Teamsters Union in our country has greater power over the economy than the President of the United States or the Congress, and in my judgment labor has reached a point where it must take its position of responsibility with others. We should either include them under the antitrust laws or pass a law giving every American citizen the civil right to work regardless of whether he belongs to a labor union or not."

What was not accomplished either by the Wagner Act or the Taft-Hartley Act was to integrate the labor unions into the American system of balanced responsibility and authority. The larger international unions have become enormous aggregates of men and women, exercising tremendous authority over industry and commerce but without suitable responsibility even to their own members.

What the McClellan Committee has accomplished, apart from developing an anxiety over the nature of labor unions, has been to show that such men as Beck and Hoffa and Dio pocket some of the union's money, which undoubtedly is true in most unions, including those which are most favorably regarded. The separation of union funds from private funds is not as clear-cut as it might be if such funds were scrutinized for tax purposes.

It will be found, on investigation, that the rank and file of union members do not expect their leaders and officials to be Simon-Pure, but they do expect them to get more money for the workers, better fringe benefits and better working conditions. On one occasion, I was with a group of members of a union who were Roman Catholics, but the top leaders of this particular union were Communists. I asked the men how they could year in and year out vote these overt Communists into top positions, to say nothing of the secret ones whose secrets were fully suspected.

Their answer was short and curt: "They get us better wages and working conditions."

The fuss that has been made over Beck and Hoffa has not shamed either nor will it produce clean unions. By selecting this particular union and no other, the McClellan Committee has weakened its case because it is too obvious that in the feud between Beck and Reuther, Reuther won. And there are many in the labor world as well as in industry who would prefer Reuther not to win, for some reasons not the least of which is that they regard him as a Socialist. When the committee makes an identical investigation of Democratic and Liberal labor leaders, it will strengthen its cause against the Teamsters who feel that they have been picked on, they know that many of their colleagues in other unions are no better than they are.

This is not written in criticism of the McClellan Committee which cannot obviously conduct a dozen investigations simultaneously and do any of them adequately. Rather, it is written to indicate the truth of Senator Lausche's statement that the unions possess too much power. They exercise power without rigid responsibility and they will not be made responsible until Congress passes laws limiting their authority, requiring an itemized receipt and expenditure of funds. They need a sort of SEC to make sure that their funds are neither received nor used corruptly.

To assume that this country will go back to unorganized labor is idiotic. It will not pay the American worker low wages for long hours and expect him to remain docile. And it makes no sense telling him that he was better off when he got low wages because it simply is not true.

But that is no reason why labor unions should be uncontrolled and unregulated in our type of society. It is no reason why the labor union should become the last refuge of the racketeer. It should be no reason why, when corporations are limited as to political expenditures, labor unions should not be so limited. In a word, what the McClellan Committee is inevitably up to is regulation.

Justifiable Homicide?

Best Chance For Peace: Investment In Poland

By Joseph Alsop

WARSAW
All free men everywhere must wish for the success of this curious but exhilarating Polish experiment in freedom, which is being made behind the famous iron curtain and under the leadership of a government of indocile Communists.

But wishes, as country people say, are not horses. The success of the Polish experiment not only depends on the efforts of the Polish people and the wisdom of the Polish leaders. It not only depends on continuing non-interference by the Soviet Union. It also depends on the help and sympathy of the free world, and especially on the help and sympathy of the American government.

Before very long, Polish representatives will be negotiating for a new American credit, very much larger than the $90,000,000 credit granted last year. In the circumstances, it is urgently important to try to define the precise nature of the American interest in the new Poland. Any such definition must begin with a negative. It will not serve the interests of the United States or of the free world to disturb or disrupt the peculiar existing relationship between Poland and the Soviet Union. In present circumstances, any such disruption or disturbance can only lead to another Hungary, on an inconceivably vaster and more horrific scale. One Hungary was enough.

"But if helping Poland is not a promising move in the cold war," one can hear the Congressmen asking, "then why help Poland at all?" The answer is simple. Helping Poland is a good though admittedly speculative investment in the eventual end of the cold war; and it is the only such investment this reporter can think of.

The world today is not dangerously divided by differences between economic theories. British Socialism and American Capitalism have been perfectly able to collaborate. The world today is dangerously divided, rather, because of the great gulf that separates the free and the unfree. And Poland is the one center of real freedom beyond the grim dividing line that cuts the world in half.

There is no likelihood that Polish freedom will ever include "free enterprise" in any recognizable form. But personal freedom, religious freedom, and freedom for the peasantry to till their plots in peace, already add up to a lot of freedom. They add up to more than enough freedom, in fact, to make Poland an enormous potential influence in all the parts of the world that is still unfree. In all this vast region of our globe's surface, the Polish experiment is being watched with desperate interest and widespread envy for the freedom that exists here.

In all this same vast region, moreover, the forms of society and the structures of government are now slowly, unpredictably and convulsively changing and evolving. In the Soviet Union, particularly, the pressure to change and evolve is very great indeed. For the Soviet Union has now experienced a successful industrial revolution, which always changes everything in the end.

The question, therefore, is not whether changes will come in the unfree part of the world. The question is what kind of changes will come. One can imagine a new Stalinist terror, which will doom the world to war and the new Poland to destruction. One can imagine a gradual, stop-and-start again progress in the direction Poland has taken. One can imagine all sorts of in-between results.

The situation may not seem fluid, any more than a glacier seems fluid. But it is moving all the same, just as a glacier moves. The success or failure of the Polish experiment is sure to play a big part in determining the direction of the movement.

This is all the more true, precisely because "Poland belongs to the Socialist camp" as all the Polish leaders insist. Outside "the Socialist camp" Poland can have immense influence. And if the Polish experiment truly succeeds, then Poland's influence must surely tend to blur the dangerous dividing line between the free and the unfree.

Is the American interest in Poland? It is vividly clear to anyone who has seen both Poland and the Soviet Union in the short space of the last six months, as this reporter has done. It is the hardest kind of political reality.

It will not be cheap to give Poland the needed help. No good will be done by another gesture that is "too little and too late," as Sen. Kennedy rightly described the last Polish loan. Commercial loans of about $200,000,000 will be required for next year. Otherwise reserve stocks will be lacking, and the Gomulka government will be unable to keep its promise to the peasants to end forced deliveries. If the limping Polish economy is to begin moving forward, industrial credits on a considerable scale will also be essential.

But remember that these sums are to be invested, not in mere passive defense in the cold war, but in the future hope of real peace. Then the sums needed seem small indeed.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Right now the fear-sighted Republicans are putting some moola away for a rainy administration.

That's because early Maine primaries have been eliminated from the tournament. And there is a split up the GOP back no wider than a man's coat.

In political package deals they like their bundles unmarked, small and unclaimed. Maine and Wisconsin will merge to see whose goosebone prophet lays the most goose eggs.

Anxiety After Heart Attack Natural But Needless

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It is natural for a person recovering from a heart attack to believe he is going to be permanently incapacitated. For the majority, however, life is just beginning.

They can start to lead the kind of life they always have wanted to but lacked the nerve. Now they have a built-in alibi to protect them from dull parties or all-night poker sessions.

While waiting for the organ to heal, peace and quiet are essential. Too many visitors are taboo, especially business associates, long lost relatives, and acquaintances who are likely to prove upsetting. There should be no telephone calls, tobacco, or excitement.

During the six week recovery period, the heart mends in two ways. Scar tissue replaces part of the heart muscle that was damaged and new blood vessels form to by-pass the obstructed segment. In time, the old ticker is back to normal. For practical purposes, the individual can return to his previous occupation.

For some changes are necessary. Factors that encourage heart attacks must be avoided, including tension, fatigue, overwork, or overplaying when the job is over. There is no need for concern so long as the work does not bring on chest pain, shortness of breath, or fatigue. Prevent overweight and do not overindulge in alcohol, because it stimulates the heart.

The man who has had a heart attack has a perfect excuse when he says "no" to anything he doesn't care to do. The majority enjoy their new model living.

Try And Stop Me

Alan Stern, of N. B. C., heard somebody introduce me one evening as a "well-known raconteur," and sent me this note: "Will Success Spoil Raconteur?" I hope not!

Many years ago a 10-year-old schoolboy wrote a composition about girls that Mark Twain considered funny enough to reprint in one of his newspaper pieces. It went like this, with its spelling, syntax, etc., unchanged:

"Girls are very stuck up and dignified in their manner and be have your. They play with dolls all the time, cry if they see a cow in the distance, and are afraid of guns. They are always fun and making fun of boys and saying how dirty. They can't play marbles. I pity them poor things. They make fun of poor things.

Legislators Plan Hearings On Bridge Tolls

BALTIMORE, Oct. 2 (P) — The Legislative Council, stymied in its efforts to lower tolls on the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, today scheduled an exhaustive hearing on the controversy for next Thursday.

Sen. Louis L. Goldstein (D-Calvert) Senate president and chairman of the council, fixed the date after the council bogged down in disagreement over how to bring about lower rates for the bridge.

Council members who voiced their feelings at today's meeting were unanimous in their irritation at the State Roads Commission and its traffic consultants, Coverdale and Colpitts of New York.

The traffic analysts last month recommended lowering the bridge toll to $1.25 for car and driver and $1.50 for car driver and all passengers. The present rate is $1.40 for car and driver and 25 cents for each additional passenger over the age of three.

The report has been roundly criticized by legislators, particularly those living on the Eastern Shore who cross the bridge frequently.

To the repeated question, "What can we do about it?" Sen. Goldstein said:

"We can get a new State Roads Commission and a governor that's got guts enough to do something about it. That's what we can do."

Goldstein said the roads commissioners, bankers holding the bonds on the state's toll facilities, engineers and "everyone interested in the matter" will be asked to attend the hearing at 3 p.m. next Thursday.

Del. Jerome Robinson (D-Baltimore) said the council has had difficulty getting positive and direct action on its requests for statistics from Coverdale and Colpitts.

"I have no confidence in Coverdale and Colpitts," he said. "I have no confidence in their report."

The controversy centers upon the difference between the bay bridge tolls and the proposed rates for the soon-to-be-opened Baltimore Harbor Tunnel.

Receipts from the bay bridge, the Susquehanna and Potomac River bridges and the tunnel will be lumped to retire the bonds with which they were financed. Heavy use of the Bay Bridge since it opened five years ago has placed it in a position of carrying a major portion of the bond load and this is what opponents of the Coverdale and Colpitts report object to.

Members of the council discussed, but failed to agree on, several proposals for demanding action before finally deciding on the special hearing next week.

"We need a new group of experts," Sen. George B. Rasin (D-Kent) said. "After being told many times they couldn't reduce tolls, we now know they can. They now propose a reduction."

Ford Decisions Spahn, Yankees Beat Braves, 3-1

Whitey Fans Aaron, Pafko, Halts Rally

Hurls Five-Hitter, Bauer, Coleman And Carey Bat In Runs

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (P)—Whitey Ford, chunky New York Yankee left-hander, whipped Milwaukee's Warren Spahn in today's World Series opener 3-1 while 69,476 basked in the warm sunshine of a perfect fall afternoon.

Showing complete recovery from the arm miseries that bothered him during most of the regular season, Ford held the National League champions to five hits.

When the embattled Braves, who went into their first series as 8-5 underdogs, threatened in the sixth, Ford calmly blew down three of their toughest right-handed hitters—Hank Aaron, Joe Adcock and Andy Pafko. The stylish little man struck out Aaron and Pafko and retired Adcock on an easy grounder after walking the first two batters.

Beating Spahn, Milwaukee's 21-game winning ace, was an important step for the Yankees. Most observers figured 36-year-old Spahn has to win two games to end the Bombers' reign.

Loss Bill Skowron

The Yanks took this opener in stride, although they lost the services of their slugging first baseman, Bill Skowron, early in the game.

When Mickey Mantle took Del Crandall's fly for the final out, Ford trudged toward the dugout after receiving only perfunctory handshakes from the infielders. It was a sharp contrast to the last previous series contest played at Yankee Stadium in 1956, when Yogi Berra rode Don Larsen piggy back after his perfect game.

Spahn gave it the big try as the only Milwaukee pitcher with previous series experience. But the crafty veteran just didn't have enough to match Ford. Manager Fred Haney took him out in the sixth after the Yanks had racked up seven of their nine hits. All three runs were charged against Spahn although the last one scored after he had left the game.

It was a beautifully pitched, scoreless battle for the first 4½ innings until Jerry Coleman, who started at second base instead of young Bobby Richardson, came through with his second hit—a ground single to left past Eddie Mathews.

Bauer Comes Through

Two infield outs had shoved Coleman to third when Hank Bauer bruised one of Spahn's pitches for a long double to right center, letting Coleman romp home.

Ford had just escaped after some anxious moments in the top of the fifth due to a dropped throw by Elston Howard at first base on a sure-fire double play. Howard, a catcher-outfielder who never had played first in the majors until last Friday in Boston, had taken over in the third after Skowron had reinjured his back running to first base in the firstinning.

Wes Covington's single, Howard's error and a walk to Spahn put Ford in trouble. Covington had been wiped out on Crandall's bouncer to Gil McDougald, but Crandall was safe on the error. When Ford walked Spahn on four pitches, Milwaukee had men on first and second with two out but Red Schoenfeld rapped sharply to Andy Carey for a force on Crandall at third to end the inning.

Spahn Is Chased

The Yanks rapped into Spahn in the sixth and chased him. With one out, Howard grounded a single to center. A walk to Berra on a 3-1 pitch brought Manager Fred Haney to the mound to talk the talk with Spahn. He stayed with Spahn.

Carey took one called strike, half attempting a bunt, and singled sharply to center, scoring Howard. Berra went to third. Haney came out again, this time to take Spahn with him.

Ernie Johnson, a sidearming right-hander, came from the bull pen to face Coleman. With the infield pulled in tight, Coleman dumped a perfect squeeze bunt to steal a base but was caught by a perfect peg by Crandall.

Skowron, who hurt his back trying to lift an air conditioner in his home several weeks ago, tried to play but had to give up. In the first inning after McDougald and Mantle singled, Skowron forced Mantle at second. He reinjured the back running to first and suffered a muscle spasm. Definitely out of the game, he was a doubtful participant in the remainder of the series.

Red Drives In Run

Covington, a left-handed hitter, doubled to the far corner in left and scored on Schoenfeld's two-out single to center. With Logan representing the potential tying run at the plate, Ford caught the shortstop fishing on a low outside pitch for a third strike.

From that moment on, Ford was untouched. He retired the last seven batters in succession to win his fifth series game in eight attempts.

Encouraged by the success of Ford, Manager Casey Stengel named Bobby Shantz, another left-hander, to work tomorrow's game. Shantz, making a fine comeback after years of arm trouble follow-

Promised Land Wins Lawrence By Half Length

ELMONT, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Ethel D. Jacobs' Promised Land closed with a rush to win a camera decision in the 65th running of the historic $28,850 Lawrence Realization at Belmont Park today.

The grey 3-year-old son of Palestinian-Mahmoudess, ridden by Hedley Woodhouse, was up in the final strides to win by a half length from Glenelg Stable's Assemblyman, who led for almost all of the mile and five furlongs run in the moderate time of 2:43 1/5.

Two and a half lengths back of Assemblyman came Jacques D. Wimpfheimer's Jockey's Walk, who finished two lengths ahead of William C. Macmillan Jr.'s Prince Wily.

Big Flops in the race were the Ogden Phipps' favored pair of Harmonizing and Bureaucracy, who finished well back, and Mrs. John R. H. Thouron's Ben Lomond, the second choice, who ran second most of the way only to falter badly in the stretch.

Promised Land earned a net purse of $19,800 for Mrs. Jacobs, wife of Trainer Hirsch Jacobs.

Third choice in the wagering with the crowd of 15,155, Promised Land returned mutuels of $13.50, $9.50 and $7.60. Assemblyman paid $22.40 and $17.10 and Jockey's Walk was $12.90 to show.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Marie Etta Keller, who passed away three years ago, October 3, 1954.
Our family circle is broken.
And the voice we love is still.
A place is vacant in our hearts,
That no one can ever fill.
Sadly missed by children and grandchildren.

Police Dept. Members Move To Join Union

Elect Temporary Chairman, Treasurer

A small group of members of the Cumberland Police Department last night elected a temporary chairman and a temporary treasurer in their first move toward unionizing the department by joining the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO.

Lt. James E. Van was named the temporary chairman of the group and Officer William E. Valentine will be the temporary treasurer.

At the meeting at the Labor Temple on South Liberty Street last night 11 members of the Police Department met with Robert H. Hastings, general organizer of the AFSCME, of Washington, D.C.

Suggests Union

Mr. Hastings told the group he felt his organization could help them obtain better working conditions and higher wages if the policemen would organize a union here.

He explained that the AFSCME could charter a group of 10 department employees but he urged the local officers to try to secure at least 50 per cent of the department force. He distributed application blanks among those present.

Mr. Hastings pointed out that the municipal employees international is recognized throughout the United States and has more than 10,000 policemen members.

He told the policemen that while the union would work with them for contractual agreements, he realized that in most cities the community leaders were not able by law to enter into contract with union locals.

"No Strike" Clause

The union representative also said that all charters issued to police departments had a "no strike" clause.

"Strikes are used to bring about economic pressure against your employer so he will recognize you. But whom do you strike against when you're a city employee? Nobody! And you just antagonize the taxpayer who actually pays your salary," Mr. Hastings told them.

Several of the officers, critical of the Civil Service merit system under which they work, asked the AFSCME if changes could be made and if they would lose their Civil Service rights if they joined the union.

The union representative told them he felt that changes could be brought about, including more efficient administration of their departments and the Civil Service if needed. He also said the AFSCME advocated Civil Service and that union members would not lose their benefits.

Firemen Named To Committees

A number of prominent volunteer firemen from Allegany and Garrett counties are serving on committees of the Maryland State Firemen's Association for 1957-58.

William A. Wilson of Midland is again serving as treasurer of the state association.

Others named include John S. Prichard, Grantsville, board of trustees; George F. Comp, Jr., Deer Park, executive committee; Homer Ambrose, McCole, fire prevention bureau; Cromwell C. Zembower, LaVale, firemen's training committee, and John Eichhorn, Lonaconing, standards committee.

Also serving are Joseph C. Stuckey, Corriganville, chairman; William F. Matthews, Corriganville; Fred Purnell, Bedford Road, and James E. Loar, LaVale, all of the topics and statistics committee; Delbert Valentine, North Branch, and Donald Prichard, Grantsville, both members of the firemen's training booster committee, and Alvin Rankin, Frostburg, and Carl A. Schell, Kitzmiller, both members of the legislative committee.

The late Nelson Russell of Cumberland was named to the scholarship committee and will have to be replaced.

Man Injured In Fall In 'Good' Condition

James L. Messick, 50, of 508 Frederick Street, was reported in "good" condition last night at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted yesterday morning following an accident at the Cumberland Ice and Storage Company on Frederick Street.

The hospital reported Mr. Messick sustained ankle and foot injuries when he fell eight feet from a ladder.

Plan Little Theatre

Officers of the Algonquin Players group study plans for a proposed little theatre program for the Cumberland area. Seated are Mrs. Winnie Moore, vice president, Ralph O. Barrick, president, and Miss Jane Schwab, secretary-treasurer. Standing is Chad Riley, a director. Not present when picture was taken were Miss Dorothy Stone White and Jack Heath, directors.

School Officials Leave For Two-Day Conference

Six officials of the Allegany County public school system left yesterday afternoon for Baltimore, where they will attend the two-day state conference of elementary and high school supervisors.

This conference, to be conducted today and tomorrow, will be held at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

Attending from here are Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster; Assistant Superintendent Richard T. Rizer, Lewyn C. Davis, supervisor of junior high schools, and the three elementary school supervisors, Miss Winifred Greene, Miss Mildred E. Willison and Miss Elizabeth I. Flake.

"Supervision as a Cooperative Enterprise" will be the general theme of the conference.

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools, announced several weeks ago that this conference is the first of five scheduled during the school year by the State Department of Education.

Also scheduled are the following:

Conference of pupil personnel workers, Baltimore, October 31 and November 1; conference of egg farm of Edward Davis at librarians, Annapolis, January 16, 1958, 17 and 18; conference of highville, to see his laying flock of 25 or April 28 and 29.

Dr. Seamands will speak at morning and evening services on Sunday. He will show colored movies of missionary work in India today.

His daughter-in-law, Ruth, wife of his oldest son, J. T. Seamands, has written a new book entitled "Missionary Mama." David Seamands, his second son, has the distinction of being the youngest man ever to be a district superintendent in the Methodist Church.

Rev. Mr. Culp reports that Dr. Seamands is considered one of Methodism's outstanding missionaries. His family has given over 130 years to missionary work in India. He has two sons and their families are prominent in the religious life of India today.

County Agent Joseph M. Steger reminded Allegany County farmers yesterday that the eighth annual sale of the South Central Pennsylvania Beef Breeders Association is scheduled for 1 p.m. EST Thursday, October 31, at the beef barn at the Bedford Fairgrounds.

All calves must be on the grounds by 1 p.m. Wednesday, October 30.

The calves must be vaccinated for blackleg and shipping fever not less than 14 days before the sale nor more than 30 days before the sale. A veterinarian's certificate must be presented before loading at the fairgrounds to show that the calves have been vaccinated.

No bulls will be sold at the Bedford sale.

Clarence Showalters will serve as auctioneer. Irus Sauder has been appointed sales manager. Representatives from State College will be at Bedford to assist with the sale.

John F. Harclerode, secretary of the South Central Pennsylvania Beef Breeders Association, has asked that consignment cards be returned not later than Saturday of this week. This is important so that barn space can be provided.

The department emphasized that in Maryland the State Influenza Planning Committee, the Advisory Committee on technical aspects and the Health Department have not recommended the use of flu vaccine for the general public at this time.

It issued the statement about the supply because of numerous inquiries from physicians, pharmacists and the general public.

The various advisory groups and state health officials have recommended that as vaccine becomes available it be given to those who are chronically ill and the risk is appreciable in the judgment of the doctor, to those who care for the sick, and to those engaged in other essential community services.

The State and Territorial Health Officers and the U.S. Public Health Service also have recommended that vaccination emphasis be placed on these three groups.

The Kitzmiller GOP women will sponsor a bazaar after the demonstration and refreshments will be available. Following the public demonstration and bazaar, men's Association will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Kitzmiller Fire Department.

The truck-trailer was operated by Byron E. Mock, RD 3, Everett, Pa., who was not injured.

Police said more than $6,500 damage was done to the vehicle in the accident, which occurred as the truck rounded a left turn on the highway.

The shifting load of steel caused the truck to break away from the trailer, which upset on the road. Police worked until late afternoon to clear the heavy wreckage which, fortunately, did not hamper traffic.

The committee meets periodically to talk over legislation on a national scale and proposes legislation to be considered by Congress.

The Health Department will hold child health clinics tomorrow at 10 a.m. at Corriganville and at Barton. A pediatric clinic will be held from 9 a.m. until noon at City Hall here.

County Group Urges Hiring Of Handicapped

National Observance Planned Next Week

Allegany County is making plans to join in the observance of "National Employ The Physically Handicapped Week" next week, Earl D. Chaney, chairman of the county segment of the Governor's Committee to Promote Employment of the Physically Handicapped, said yesterday.

With the cooperation of the Cumberland office of the State of Maryland Department of Employment Security, letters are being mailed this week to all businesses, employers and churches urging their cooperation in the observance October 6 through 12.

Period Set Aside

The letters point out that this period has been set aside so that national attention can be brought to bear on a serious employment problem in the inability of many partially handicapped persons to obtain work and a means of supporting themselves and their families.

Clergy members are asked to include in their religious announcements and programs this Sunday special mention of the weekly observance. They also are urged to use church publications to include comment regarding the employment of the physically handicapped.

The letters to employers also note that most jobs do not require the worker's total physical capacity. Many handicapped persons, properly placed, can produce increased production, improve morale, reduce absenteeism and help safety records, the letters state.

Has 137 Applicants

The employers are urged to re-examine their operations and to employ handicapped persons in self-supporting jobs, Mr. Chaney said. Further information can be obtained at the Department of Employment Security office on North Mechanic Street or at the vocational rehabilitation office in the County Building on Union Street.

First tour stop will be at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Glass between Frostburg and Grantsville to see 4,000 bronze school principals, Lord Baltimore 2,500 Leghorns.

En route to Garrett County the bus will stop at the Post Office in Frostburg to pick up those going from that sector.

First tour stop will be at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Glass between Frostburg and Grantsville to see 4,000 bronze school principals, Lord Baltimore 2,500 Leghorns.

After another 18 miles of travel the group will stop at the turkeys farm of Robert Glotfelter of Bittinger, president of the Garrett County Turkey Growers Association.

These include 53 war veterans and 13 women.

In the past month, Mr. Kenney said, his department has placed 137 physically handicapped persons in jobs in Allegany County, including two veterans.

During September, he said, the DES office contacted 56 employers seeking job openings for the physically handicapped person.

The Mayor and City Council of Cumberland will be asked to issue a proclamation for observance of the program next week.

Lunch will be served to the travelers at 12:30 p.m. at the Northern High School cafeteria.

Afternoon stops are scheduled at the broiler farm of Harold Gney on U.S. Route 219 near Oakland with 7,000 broilers; the Sterling processing plant at Oakland which processes 40,000 broilers or 18,000 turkeys every eight-hour working day, and the poultry laboratory in Oakland supervised by Dr. Donald R. Glotfelter.

Between 30 and 40 are expected but at the present time only five or six farmers have made their reservations. The county agent would like all reservations by Friday, October 11.

No bulls will be sold at the Bedford sale.

Clarence Showalters will serve as auctioneer. Irus Sauder has been appointed sales manager.

Telephone Employers Plan 'Happiness Pile' Week

A project called "Happiness Pile" has been started by employees of the local office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

The purpose of the project is to collect old toys and clothes and canned goods to be given to the Salvation Army Corps so they may distribute them during the Christmas season.

The week of October 7 has been set as "Happiness Pile Week" and all employees of the company will be asked to bring their donations to the central office building on South Centre Street.

The second floor of the building will be used to store all the articles that will be collected, and several employees have volunteered their services to repair and mend any of the damaged articles.

Mrs. Thomasine Clay and Mrs. Janie Perdue are in charge of the arrangements. Anyone who has a donation may call PA 2-955 or PA 2-9941 during next week and the donation will be picked up.

This is the first year for the project, and it is successful if the phone company plans to continue it each year.

13 Women Drawn For Jury First Time In Hardy Co.

For the first time in the county's judicial history, 13 women will serve as jurors at the October term of Hardy County Circuit Court which opens in Moorefield October 15.

Six women will serve on the grand jury and seven on the petit jury. Court attaches said it might be a dubious honor for the female petit jurors however, as the court docket is light and it may not be necessary to call the petit jury to sit on any case.

The Hardy County Grand Jury

includes Anna H. Calhoun, Kathryn Kuhn, Nancy H. Harman, Florence B. Cochran, Gladys Dispanet, Esther E. Baughman, Hunter G. Tharp, Clarence Funkhouser, Warren W. Jenkins, Raymond W. Tusing, Price Bayse, Ralph H. Fisher, Wilmer Neff, John W. Coffman, S. L. Harper Jr., and Carl Bergdoll.
